MUSTA

Atkins,

You have been a great buddy of mine this year. Do help put out a great paper and I know that the paper will miss you next year. I hope you will take it easy in college next year and come back to see us once in a while. Good Luck in every thing you do and I will see you lots, I hope.

Dedicated to...

Miss Gordon Freeman

Mr. Leslie Browne

We, the senior class, broke the tradition of dedicating our annual to one person, for we feel there are two people who above all others deserve appreciation. With each new annual Miss Gordon Freeman and Mr. Leslie Browne, as yearbook advisors, contribute something to our school that is lasting and memorable for the entire student body and especially for the senior class.

Miss Freeman spent many hours thinking of captions, writing copy, advising the editorial staff; Mr. Browne, developing pictures, planning a new ad layout, advising the business staff. To put together what you see in the following pages took many hours outside of sixth period annual class. It took every weekend, most afternoons, many nights. With an encouraging word and quick assistance they were always there to help, to do. The '59 staff realizes that it could not have put this book out without them.

However, their activities have not been limited to their classrooms and annual alone. Each well deserves the nomination for contributions in other fields. In addition to her four English classes and annual Miss Freeman taught a new elective, creative writing, this year. Through her efforts in developing the talent of this class and in advising it, the student body had a new literary magazine, Pegasus.

Hi-Y clubs at Myers Park have grown and developed mainly through the efforts of Mr. Browne. This year he advised two of the three clubs, tenth and twelfth grade. He has also served as a past president of the Charlotte, North Carolina Education Association.

In appreciation for dedication to teaching, willingness to guide, and giving of time and interest for the betterment of Myers Park, the senior class gratefully dedicates the 1959 Mustang to Miss Gordon Freeman and Mr. Leslie Browne.

The new year brings a revival of that ever-present spirit that is M.P.H.S.

September third brought a new school year, a new beginning; new skills to learn, old ones to master; a time to work, a time to play; experiences to share, opportunities to serve; old friends, new ones; excitement, anticipation. For some students, this year was their first at Myers Park; for others, their last. For everyone, it was a year to remember.

The first school month, as always, was a busy one of paying fees, getting the first 'Spark, meeting classes, doing perpetual homework, beating Central, electing officers, taking class pictures, holding the first Student Council meeting and the first new senior class meeting. Football games often followed by open houses now took up part of our weekends. Seniors who had taken part in the AFS program or had attended various conventions and conferences shared their experiences in an assembly.

As autumn slipped by, our year fell into a pattern—familiar, traditional, and thrilling. Who will ever forget the impressive Honor Society tapping? Homecoming was dampened only slightly by our loss to the Whirlies. The next week we tied our arch rivals, the Rams, 0-0. College Day brought a sudden realization of the nearness of the future. National Merit Semi-Finalists were announced. We found proof of our spirit of unity as we worked for the annual barbeque. We chuckled through "Time Out for Ginger" and subscribed to the Mustang.

With the winter months came a frantic tempo—there were so many things to do: a superior concert by the Music Department, all-important College Boards, wrestling and basketball, club meetings, the eagerly-awaited Christmas Dance, two-hour exams, the close of the old semester and promises brought by a new one, bids for membership in Key Club and Girl Ambassadors, a new literary magazine, Valentines and our King and Queen of Hearts, the yearbook deadline, new class rings for juniors. And somewhere in between, we struggled over term papers or Latin projects.

Before we realized it, the fourth quarter had begun. We enjoyed Senior Follies, the best ever presented. Easter and a brief holiday. Juniors worked secretly on the Junior-Senior Prom. And finally, the most important month of all for a senior, May. The Junior-Senior. Our last Honors and Awards assembly. Senior Banquet. No longer was graduation a dream; it was a reality. Diplomas loomed ahead—tangible proof that the years of learning and growing in high school were over. But these years will not escape us; they are captured forever in our memories.

Athletics offer a variety

The toss of the coin, the referee's signal, the start of the big clock—the 1958-59 Mustangs sports season was off to a fighting start as our football team took the field in their opening game. Cheers of encouragement echoed throughout the stadium, expressing the pride in the heart of each loyal Myers Parker.

Throughout the year our many teams did not win every game, but they compiled a record worthy of praise and added to the already well-stocked trophy case.

However, this year's varied program of athletics brought more than trophies and honors. It developed skills and offered an outlet for energy; it developed a feeling of unity and loyalty among the student body. Most important, it gave us a Mustang spirit that no loss could unsettle, that no victory could make boastful.

of opportunities to grow in skills and sportsmanship.

Vivacious cheerleaders add zest to sports events

With an inexhaustible supply of energy, three groups of peppy, school-spirited girls were always down front to lead the fight songs and yells for our teams.

The senior high cheerleaders began their practice sessions in the middle of August, and by the opening of school they had revitalized old cheers and added many new ones. In preparation for the many pep rallies they sponsored, these loyal rooters made banners and posters to help spark student enthusiasm and game attendance. During the football team's practice sessions, the girls served cold orange juice to the team and assisted the coaches by typing schedules and attending to office details.

Nine newly elected J.V. Cheerleaders were another first for Myers Park this year. Elected by the tenth grade, these Jumping Jills designed their own uniforms and originated their own lively style of cheering.

Although Myers Park Junior High consisted of only a ninth grade this year, the Junior High Cheerleaders found their job a big one. In addition to leading the cheering section, they sold programs and booster cards.

CHEERING THE COLTS on to victory were: Mary Catherine Akers, Mascot; Gay Williams, Head Cheerleader; Linda Holder, Yorky Johnston, Nancy Van Every, Casey Sherrill, Leslie Freedland, Mary Quern, Alice French, Jane Utley.

Fourth row: Mr. Cloaninger, Advisor; Dot Poole, Carole Lane, Tom Moore, Tom O'Brien, Freeman Barber, Neal Cheek, Paul Barefoot.

The aim of the Mustang Club is to boost school spirit. Members, selected on the basis of their loyalty, sit together at football and basketball games and form a lively nucleus for the cheering section.

Activities of the Mustang Club are guided by the Executive Council made up of the officers, the advisor, and representatives from the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. Highlights of this year's club projects were selling pennants and holding a rummage sale. The funds raised were used for decorating the school for pep rallies and for publishing basketball programs. Mr. Cloaninger acted as the club advisor.

For that finishing touch, for that extra special dash, the lettergirls and majorettes were always on hand to stage half-time shows during football season and to bear our colors proudly in public appearances with the marching band. Each group worked on its own to master marching and drill techniques, and they spent long sessions practicing during sixth period and after school with the band. The majorettes, with the assistance of their advisors, Mrs. Lancaster and Mr. Mims, devised many new costumes and routines for half-time shows. Spectators taking a breather in the middle of a tense game were entertained by these girls who assisted the band in intricate marching patterns and precision drill performances.

Stung by graduation losses and playing Triple A for the first year, the Mustangs had a very successful '58 season.

In the opening game, the Steeds romped the North Mecklenburg Rebels 21-0, with the stylish quarterbacking of Hal Beaver, an excellent replacement for Ray Farris.

Sparked by the first win of the season, the Mustangs took on the one touchdown-favored Central. In the first few seconds, halfback Butch Gallagher caught the opening kickoff and raced untouched 92 yards for the first score.

The jazzed-up eleven did not stop with one touchdown. Hal Beaver ran the option beautifully, and the result was a 28-6 upset over Central.

After losing to Salisbury in the worst defeat in two seasons, the Mustangs went on the road to dismantle the Burlington Bulldogs. Burlington would not co-operate; they dismantled themselves. The Myers Park line recovered kicks, centers, and fumbles all evening. Tommy Blanton replaced Hal Beaver at quarterback and connected to Ronnie Moser and Bill Tourtellot for an aerial assault to humble the Bulldogs, 30-12.

Although defeated by one point in their encounter with Asheville, the mighty Mustangs journeyed to Gastonia to melt the Green Wave. After Hal Beaver suffered a head injury, Tommy Blanton directed the attack with passes to Bob Cordle and to Bill Tourtellot. The final score was 19-14.

After losing Homecoming to Greensboro, the meeting of the "upsetters" took place when the Mustangs faced the Harding Rams, a 7-point favorite. The Myers Park gridders came out onto the field fired up and ready to go. Bob Cordle gave the Mustangs their offensive spark but the line was the thing. Stalwarts like John Newitt, Paul Potts, Paul Stork, Richard Scott, Jerry Mitchell, Bill Wallace, and Joe Cox held the game to an exasperating 0-0 tie.

In a tie with Harding for first place in the city, the Horses of Myers Park met the Eagles of East Mecklenburg. With Hal Beaver playing his best game, scoring eight points (all with his right foot), the Mustangs stomped the Eagles 38-7. Beaver threw passes to ace ends Tourtellot and Moser and to speedy Bob Cordle. Lou Sullivan was a consistent ground-gainer and Tommy Blanton churned 85 yards for a punt return.

Winding up the 1958 season, the Myers Park Mustangs snowed West Mecklenburg 21-0 with a merciless aerial attack by Tommy Blanton. Horses on the ground attack were Lou Sullivan and Bob Allen.

On the All-City teams, Myers Park placed Hal Beaver, Bill Tourtellot, and Bob Cordle. On the All-Mecklenburg team, Myers Park placed Hal Beaver, Bill Tourtellot, Bob Cordle, Bill Wallace, and John Newitt. In the Shrine Bowl Game, Myers Park placed at quarterback, Hal Beaver.

The Mighty Mustangs of 1958 are, first row: Ronnie Moser, Tammy Blonton, Hill Wellford, Captain Dove Underwood, Butch Gollogher, Phil Burns, Poul Potts, Bill Gilbert. J.V. Mustangs shut out East and North

Running was the strongest weapon of the Myers Park Junior Varsity who finished the '58 season with a 2-4 record, winning over North (26-0) and West (19-0) and losing to East, Harding, Central, and Gastonia. Outstanding members of the Junior Mustangs, coached by Stuart Allen, were Don Titus, Perky Roberson, and Bill Hinson who played defensive positions. Offensive spark was given by Captain Charles Elrod and Mike Houston, the leading scorer. The Jayvees had the kicking edge with Wiley Horne and Jimmy Wallace.

Mustang Cagers face Triple A competition

"Big" Bill Wallace dunks two for M. P.

The spirit of Myers Park is portrayed on the basketball court by Coach George Powell's quintet. By midseason the Mustangs had a four-ten win-loss record. In Triple A sports for the first time, the mighty Mustangs faced stronger foes than they had ever faced before. Showing the undampened M. P. spirit after several losses, the team came through victorious over rivals Harding, North, and East by 71-62, 56-54, and 50-46.

On the hardwood could be seen such athletes as "Smiling" Richard Barefoot, "Big" Bill Wallace, "Spunky" and "Speedy" Robert Parlier and Tommy Blanton, and "Dependable" Wade Blackwelder. From the bench, the players could always hear shouts of encouragement and support, like "Get to work, you lazy loafers."

In one of the outstanding games the "firehouse five" defeated the Harding Rams 71-62. In the game the Mustangs capitalized on their fast breaks with Tommy Blanton and Robert Parlier turning in outstanding performances.

Next year's team will be greatly assisted by the experience of juniors Howard Arbuckle, Fisk Outwater, and Gene Curtis.

The Jayvee hardwood "Magicians" tore through all opponents to compile the most successful record in the city. Led by Buddy DuBose, crafty playmaker and ace shooter, and Big Joe Cox under the boards, the Greenies displayed unusual finesse and confidence. Coached by Jack Sink, this fine squad should provide the nucleus for a Myers Park championship team of the future.

Coached for the first year by Stuart Allen, the Myers Park wrestling team posed a definite threat on the mats this season with a four-two record. Three matches before the State Meet, the grapplers continued to pin their opponents and increase their wins. On the mats were such grappling seniors as George Foster, Bo Willard, Goody Thomas, Phil Burns, and Ben McCoy. With underclassmen like Paul Stork, Allan Aitken, and Ed Genois, future wrestling squads of Myers Park will have great experience on the mats.

Getting into the swim of things

Swimmers win invitationals by wide margin

After only four years of competitive swimming, Myers Park's Swimming Team captured the state high school championship, setting two national swim records. Bill McGinty bettered the national high school record twice by shoving the listed record of 50.2 to 50.1 seconds in the 100-yard freestyle qualifying events and then came back with a 49.6 for the finals. In the 50-yard freestyle he bettered the old record of 23.8 with a time of 22.9. Myers Park scored 118 points to outdistance second-place Greensboro with 68.

At the fourth annual Eastern Carolina Invitational swim meet, the Mustang mermen amassed 118½ points to outdistance Needham Broughton's 88 points. At the Emory University Invitational, with 25 schools participating, Myers Park collected 57 points to sweep the honors. In the 50-yard freestyle, McGinty broke the meet record of 23.7 by .4 of a second. The freestyle team, Bill Sanford, Lou Sullivan, Deems Wilson, and Bill McGinty, also broke the existing state record of 1.38 minutes by 2.1 seconds.

At Chapel Hill in February, the swimmers placed first in four events, scoring 83 points to win the 14th annual Southern Interscholastic swimming championship. Bill McGinty clipped the 100-yard freestyle record of 51 seconds by posting a new time of 50.5.

A well-trained staff produces a well-rounded program of athletics

The Myers Park High School Athletic Association is composed of the coaches of each of the sports in which the Mustangs participate. Mr. Sheppard, graduate of Wake Forest College, co-ordinates the athletic program and coaches golf. Mr. Purcell, a UNC graduate, is varsity football and swimming coach. Mr. Powell, a graduate of Appalachian State Teachers College, is varsity basketball coach and is responsible for the intramural sports program. Miss Stuckey, graduate of Winthrop College, coaches the girls' basketball team. Miss Jones, graduate of Stetson University, coaches the junior high girls' basketball team. Mr. Sink, a graduate of Leniar Rhyne College, coaches varsity baseball, j. v. basketball, and is assistant football coach. Mr. Dreibelbis, graduate of Catawba College, coaches junior high football and basketball. Mr. Allen, graduate of UNC, coaches wrestling, track, cross country and is assistant football coach.

Fillies take city championship, retain cup

For the second consecutive year, the girls' basketball team won the city championship, boasting an undefeated season. Captained by Mary Anne Buck, the Fillies clocked a total of 254 points, while yielding only 125.

After tumbling Charlotte Catholic in the opening game of the season, the spirited Myers Parkers wrapped up three more consecutive games, downing Harding once and Central twice. Finally in the play-off game for the city championship, the Fillies humbled Harding 37-26 in the Rams' gym and carried home all honors.

Sally McKaig, an outstanding offensive player, scored an average of almost twenty points per game, while her teammates, Joyce Hunter and Pat Sloan, also high scorers, backed her on every play. On the defensive end of the court, Ann Potts, Judy Mathews, and Dagmar Stoll, using a zone technique all their own, held the opponents to a minimum scoring total.

The combined efforts of the entire team and their coach boosted the Fillies to feats never before accomplished at Myers Park.

A search for knowledge:

The sound of the 8:20 bell, the mad dash to homeroom, the quiet period of devotionals, the morning announcements—thus each day began.

Dashing from point to point on the campus, we pursued the sometimes elusive phantom of knowledge. There were notes to take in history, unknown "x's" to find, ideas to develop into themes, term papers to write, science projects to complete, tests to take, Shakespeare or Chaucer to memorize, foreign language verbs to conjugate, push-ups to do in gym, parallel material to read.

Activities after school taught us knowledge that does not come from books. We developed leadership and initiative as we worked on club projects. We learned co-operation and teamwork as we met newspaper and yearbook deadlines, practiced for plays, and took part in concerts. We learned to think constructively as we planned programs and special events.

As we view our year in retrospect, we will remember many things, but we will especially remember the times we spent learning together, in our classes as well as in our activities.

For administrators and faculty, 1958-59 was a year of change and progress. Pending the completion of the new Alexander Graham Junior High School, Myers Park housed the new school's ninth grade and prepared to become an all-senior high school. Junior high principal Mr. Frank Motley worked closely with Myers Park administrators in planning school activities and policies. In spite of the period of transition, the two schools were able to function smoothly.

In addition to Myers Park's becoming an all-senior high school, an increase in next year's enrollment is also expected because of the expansion of our school district. To meet the needs of a larger student body, Dr. Horner and City Superintendent Dr. Elmer H. Garinger have planned curricula designed to offer as varied an educational program as possible.

Mr. W. S. Adams joined the administration as our new assistant principal this year.

Faculty sets pace for rich curriculum

REFRESHED FROM A SUMMER of rest, or travel, or even summer school, faculty members chat before Dr. Horner calls first staff meeting to order.

Russia and her Sputnik have brought an unparalled challenge to education, but our foresighted administration and faculty were not caught unprepared. When last spring's registration statistics indicated a move toward more academic courses, Dr. Horner and the various departments began to plan accordingly. Advanced sections were added in many courses, and the program of electives was broadened.

Parallel with the national trend, there was a decided increase in the number of students taking math and science courses. Language arts and social studies jumped in enrollment, while there was a slight drop in our dramatic and art programs. There was enough expansion in the business department to warrant adding a new typing instructor.

Proud of our school's scholastic rating, faculty members worked continuously to strengthen and improve our academic program. In spite of their busy schedules, however, they often found time to enjoy each other's company at social events.

EXCHANGING "DEPARTMENT-DOINGS" at lunch are (counter-clockwise) Miss Sifford, Mr. Sheppard, Coach Purcell, and Miss Carmichael.

ONE OF THE MOST ENJOYABLE faculty socials this year was the Librarians' Tea given by Miss Phifer and Miss Wheeler.

P.T.A. works to build a greater Myers Park

Tops goal at annual barbeque

Myers Park's Parent-Teacher Association is one of the most active in the state. P. T. A. memberships this year came to better than fifty percent of the school enrollment, a total which indicates the interest and loyalty of our community.

Living up to the confidence placed in them, the officers and executive council have been responsible for one of the most successful years in the organization's history. Receipts from the annual barbecue totaled an all-time high of $3,246.33. Of this amount 40% went to the athletic fund and 60% remained in the treasury to be used for various P. T. A.-sponsored projects.

The barbecue was just one of many projects undertaken by this organization. In October they sponsored the traditional "Back-to-School" for parents, and at subsequent meetings they presented programs designed to keep the members informed on current educational trends. Volunteers again staffed the Health Unit, and the House and Grounds Committee provided attractive floral arrangements for the S.C. foyer and the student lounge.

Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Efird were two of the parents who gave so graciously of their time at the annual barbeque.

Mrs. Joseph Soldoti (seated), Mrs. Corolyn Good, Mr. W. S. Adoms, Mr. John Leok chat with Dr. I. E. Reody who spoke to the P.T.A. on current curriculum trends.

Mrs. Chorles Couric and Alice Horrison demonstrate the service our P.T.A.-sponsored Health Unit gives.

Science and math take lead in age of Sputnik

BIOLOGY STUDENTS Noncy Stokes, Dickie Sidbury, and Gus Anostes look for xylem and phloem.

For the first year, we had advanced biology and physics sections. Seven hundred fifty-five students took natural science courses in either biology, chemistry, or physics, which was taught by a new faculty member, Mr. McClosky.

Forty students planned and made science projects, biological or physical, for the Science Fair. Several entrants won the right to take displays to the district fair and hoped that they might go on to the state and national fairs as other students from our school have done in recent years.

Although all of us did not have particularly outstanding ability in science, we were still able to enjoy the satisfaction of completing successful experiments in chemistry or of recognizing all the leaves in our collections for biology. We knew that we had accomplished that which science really means—knowledge.

Adding a teacher to last year's number, we were able to increase the mathematics department so that 1353 student-hours were taken in this field. Two new faculty members, Mr. Kiser, who teaches geometry, and Miss Whitley, who teaches geometry and trigonometry, joined the staff.

Preparing for college, 90 ambitious students took college algebra and 76 struggled through solid geometry and trigonometry. Fifty-two seniors took senior math to obtain a broad over-view of many maths.

Janie Moeller, Mike Carrier, Phil Gietzen, and Hughes Hoyle discuss the geometric figures they use in solid geometry.

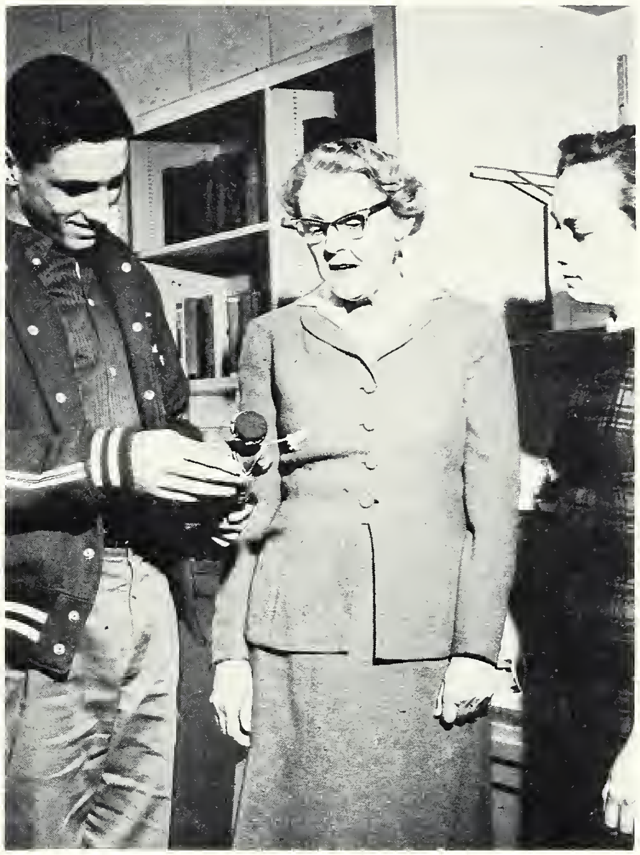
English and foreign language departments expanded

All phases of our language program were expanded this year—the number of teachers, the facilities, the student interest.

New English teachers were Miss Aycack, Miss Brice, and Mr. Sizer, while Miss Foster joined the Spanish Department.

Increased interest in language courses braught about the additian of a third-year Latin class; third-year French and Spanish were continued. In addition ta the regular required English caurses, students enralled in journalism, creative writing, and warld literature. Public speaking and dramatics were courses offered by the Drama Department.

Advancement in aur language department this year was evident in the high scares which students made an the Califarnia Reading Test, the Seniar Cooperative English Test, and the English Campasitian Achievement Test af College Boards. Special recagnition went ta Mary Martha Lander, Billy Guian, Richard Barefaat, Susan Stephensan, and Trey Snepp, who participated in the Reader's Digest "Teen Tap-Ten Praject." Their reviews af articles which appeared in the February issue are evidence of M.P.'s outstanding Language Arts Department.



Miss Newland discusses selection af display material far English literature with Bo Willard and Danna Kelleher.

Miss Martha Akers helps Richard Scott perfect his pronuciation, while Ellen Frye and Myra Sides await their turn to read aloud.

At the annual Language Festival Marjarie Rehm, her parents and Laura Kissiah discuss Christmas customs with Susan Brenells from Wales.

Mr. Feimster's world history students make use of bulletin boards and maps to understand the influence of ancient cultures.

Through debates, class discussions, guest speakers, films, and T.V., 898 students learned to understand present world situations through a study of the past. Problems of American Democracy, which was added this year as a senior elective, proved to be most enjoyable. World history also became a television course.

Mrs. Carolyn Good joined the department as a world history teacher.

World understanding grows through study of the past

Cynthia Baker, Judy Allen, Kirby McCormick, Agnes Binder, and Joan Pierce listen attentively as Mrs. Winningham from Charlotte College lectures on foreign affairs.

PROBLEMS IN AMERICAN DEMOCRACY
MBASSADOR

Chuck Klotzberger, Bill Cowan and George Hawes find Mrs. Macon's bulletin board on slave trade especially interesting.

In addition to our program of required courses, there is a wide choice of electives offered to students at Myers Park. These electives may fall in the realm of academic courses, or they may be courses designed to develop certain skills.

World literature offers students an opportunity to study classical literary forms. Creative talents can be developed in creative writing, art, journalism, dramatics, or our vast music program. Technical courses available include industrial arts, mechanical drawing, and home arts. Our commercial arts and Distributive Education programs enable many students to enter the business world immediately upon graduation. Other valuable courses include Bible, driver's education, public speaking, library science, and psychology.

New faculty members who taught elective courses were Miss Petteway, art; Mr. Cloaninger, typing; and Mr. Mims, instrumental music. Mr. Adams, our new assistant principal, taught psychology.

Whatever their purpose, elective subjects afford students an opportunity to broaden their outlook and to balance their educational program.

Mr. Booth offers Tammy Meacham a suggestion concerning his drawing.

Students round out programs with a variety of electives

Mrs. Alexander's world literature class enjoys sampling varied literary works.

Frequent tests and periodic reports check progress

Lindo Shields, Pony Jones, and Corole Beosley complete their study of Julius Caesar with a unit test

Hardly a day passes by without a scheduled test or a diabolical "pop quiz" to be met. On Monday we may be tested on science or driver education; on Tuesday, social studies. Wednesdays mean we have to bone up on English or be prepared to perform in home economics or industrial arts. Foreign languages and art face us on Thursday; while mathematics, business subjects, and physical education trip us up on Friday. A "pop quiz" always seems to come on the days we are least prepared.

This year we renewed the practice of two-hour semester examinations. Who will ever forget the "cramming" sessions, the anguish, or the feeling of satisfaction when they were over?

Report cards, which appear every nine weeks, are inevitable and irrevocable. We greet these small white cards with a variety of emotions, yet we know they, along with tests and examinations are necssary measures of our scholastic performance.

Rabbie Gontt, Pam Guthrie, Corale Lone, David Shelton, Tam Croyton, Horry McArver, and Wayne Martin are evidently pleased with their report cards.

College Day answers seniors' questions

Many win scholarships

November fifth was an informative one for seniors, who were able to gain a comprehensive view of the classes, facilities, activities of several colleges or universities. One of the best features of this program included a free period in which each student could revisit representatives of a favored school or explore new ones.

Representatives came from schools as far away as Wellesley and from as close as Charlotte College and ranged in size from the small private schools to U.N.C. This was the first year Ivy League schools were represented, and many showed interest in Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and Wellesley.

Later in the year many seniors received scholarships from the colleges whose representatives came to college day.

Looking back, we see our whole year passing before us—our last and best at Myers Park. We remember our last first day in high school. We remember with gladness at passing a milestone, with sadness at leaving something behind.

But there were new learning experiences for us in world literature, trigonometry, problems of democracy, and, of course, senior English. We were proud of our class's intellectual achievements, our scholarship finalists, our A.F.S. representative. On College Day many of us made our final decision on which school to attend. Then came College Boards—this time so much depended on those grades. We frantically filled out last-minute applications, mailed them just in time, and waited anxiously for replies.

However, not all our time was spent in study. Our senior committee chairmen worked hard planning social activities and our all-important graduation. We elected class day officers to write the class documents. We elected superlatives, beauties, graduation speakers—always we seemed to be voting on someone or something. Our foreign exchange students helped us to understand that people the world over are basically the same.

Members of our class took the lead in all clubs and extra-curricular activities—acting in plays, writing the follies, editing school publications, heading clubs.

Yes, we look back—with joy at graduating and regret at leaving.

Juniors Choose "Out Of This World" As Prom Theme

New rings, College Boards, the Junior-Senior—what memories we have to cherish.

Our year has been characterized by outstanding achievements in all fields. From our class four candidates were selected to compete in the American Field Service program. We placed members on all varsity sports teams. In drama, debating, writing, our class was well represented.

But most of the year we seemed to be in the midst of plans for the Junior-Senior. Individual homerooms held money-raising projects to raise money for this event. Our committee chairmen and their advisors labored for long hours planning a theme, invitations, entertainment, and all the other things which go into the planning of a successful prom.

College Boards loomed ahead. Although these grades would not really count, we early began to buy books resolving to study every night. How many kept those resolutions?

With all these other activities, we still devoted much time to study. In the spring members of our class were inducted into the Honor Society. Many of us rated highly on nationally conducted tests. We watched American history on T. V., became proficient in languages, read Emerson and Thoreau.

Then at graduation our top students served as Junior Marshals. We looked back at our carefree underclass days—forward to our senior year.

A.F.S. CANDIDATES Sally McKaig, Bob Allen Mary Lucas, and Tish Smith study map, wonder "which country would I most like to visit?"

Mr. Bruce of Balfour Inc. talks with Sandra Summerville, Dan Thigpen, Tom Moore, and Libby McNeely about new style class rings.

As the largest class in the history of Myers Park, we can look back on a year full of achievement and excitement.

We began the year by electing as our officers four students who were already experienced in school government. They led the class in planning an informal dance held soon after the beginning of the new year. Members of our class excelled in holding offices in school clubs and in playing on Jayvee and varsity teams. Nine of our girls became Myers Park's first Jayvee cheerleaders.

In the classroom we delved further into the mysteries of algebra and Latin. We were introduced for the first time to Tillie Tapeworm and Freddie Frog. Our knowledge of world history came to us via air waves through television.

Now we look forward to another year of accomplishment.

Graduation of this year's ninth grade marks

Billy Clark, President; Donny Wood, Vice President; Casey Sherrill, Secretary-Treasurer.

We were the last ninth grade—the last of the junior high at Myers Park. Though the youngest group here, we made our presence felt in school activities. Members of our class led the Junior High Honor Society and Ninth Grade Y-teens, participated in junior high sports, and were active in various school clubs. During the year we held two dances which were very successful. Our teachers introduced us to career opportunities through civics, to the stars through general science, to people on the other side of the Atlantic through foreign languages. New areas of knowledge were shown us. For the first time we began to think of our futures.

Students enrich classroom learning through

Language students at Myers Park had many opportunities to make practical use of the knowledge which they gained in class. Latin Club members presented many skits on Roman life which helped them to understand daily customs and traditions of ancient Rome. By playing various teaching games at their meetings, they earned more about grammar of the language.

French and Spanish Club members also increased their appreciation of their language courses through skits, scenes from classical plays, songs, games, and lectures on the customs of France, Spain, and Latin American countries.

For their banquet held in February, Spanish Club members prepared authentic Spanish dishes.

All three clubs participated jointly in the annual Language Festival in December. Traditional carols, the story of the Nativity, and talks on Christmas celebrations in other countries were presented by the groups. Susan Brennels, our exchange student from Wales, told how the customs in her country differ from ours.

One of the most active groups on campus this year has been the Myers Park chapter of the Distributive Education Club of America, known also as DECA.

The D.E. program provides an invaluable public service in preparing young people for their role in the business world. Students receive both classroom and on-the-job training in a carefully planned course of study.

This organization won many group as well as individual honors. President Barbara Burr was elected secretary-treasurer of the Western District Convention and for the second year won first place in the job interview contest. This win made her eligible for the state contest held in Greensboro in March. At the District Convention the club's scrapbook took high honors.

The D.E. Club projects included "Enlisted Programs" to help students obtain jobs, a special eight-day course in selling, open to all students interested in obtaining part-time employment, and the adoption of a needy family at Christmastime.

Highlighting the year was D.E. Week held in February. In co-operation with the Charlotte Merchants' Association, the club sponsored programs on radio and TV and gave speeches at school to let the public know just what the D.E. program is. The climax of the special week was an Employee-Employer Banquet. Mr. George Ivey was the guest speaker. Mrs. Burgess is D.E. co-ordinator.

Students interested in teaching, homemaking, or engineering as a possible vocation furthered their knowledge and understanding of these areas through membership in Future Teachers of America, Future Homemakers of America, and Engineers' Club. At their monthly and bi-monthly meetings, these groups enjoyed guest speakers and programs of student participation.

The Future Teachers attended the state convention at Wake Forest, renewed the practice of Visitation Day in the city schools, and co-sponsored Teacher Appreciation Day. Highlights of the Future Homemakers Club included taking part in the Betty Crocker Contest and participating in a fashion show conducted by the Simplicity Pattern Company.

Field trips played an important part in the activities of the Engineers' Club. They toured Charlotte Pipe and Foundry Company and the Lithium Corporation of America Plant at Bessemer City. For their main project they sponsored a local science fair.

Advisors for the groups were Miss Brice and Mr. Snyder, F.T.A.; Mrs. Lyerly, F.H.A.; and Mr. McClosky, Engineers' Club.

ROBERT TAKES DUES from Senior Hi-Y boys.

Sponsored by the YWCA and the YMCA, the four Y-teen and three Hi-Y clubs have a common goal—serving others. These organizations seek to promote world understanding, to improve human relations, to encourage personal growth, and to provide community services. These seven clubs have been among the most active on campus this year.

The Senior Y-teens challenged the Senior Hi-Y club in a drive to collect canned goods for the needy at Christmas. In the spirited contest that ensued, the Hi-Y members managed to defeat the Y-teens through "slight-of-hand" techniques. In spite of the good-natured bantering that took place, the challenge brought about the desired result—a happy Christmas for the poor. The Y-teen group also helped decorate the campus for the Harding Game. Mrs. Boye was the girls' advisor. The Senior Hi-Y used funds raised from their projects to purchase much-needed spotlights for the campus. Mr. Browne served as advisor for the boys. Both groups enjoyed several social events.

The eleventh grade Y-sponsored groups participated in similar projects and activities. Highlights of the year for the girls included making sock dolls for the Charlotte Day Nursery, selling tickets in a car raffle for the March of Dimes drive, packing candy for the Salvation Army, and providing hospital aids. This clubs' programs were varied and interesting: Mr. Buice Burleson gave a demonstration of judo; Mrs. T. N. Hamer talked on "New and Inexpensive Ways to Redecorate a Room"; Mrs. DeMerritt from Memorial Hospital spoke on "Nursing as a Profession"; and Dr. John Brokhoff gave an inspirational program on the meaning of Christmas. Mrs. Lyerly was the advisor.

Hi-Y boys of the eleventh grade enjoyed hearing guest speakers and played an important part in many service projects for the school and community. Mr. Feimster served as advisor.

Sophomore Hi-Y's and Y-teen's work for school and community

The sophomore class had a large membership in Y-Teens. In October they held their first social of the year, a Bermuda Ball on the terrace of S.C. Other parties were held in March and in May. In keeping with their purpose of serving others, they raked leaves to raise money to sponsor a needy family's Christmas. During Clean-Up Week in February they devoted a Saturday to picking up litter from the campus. Miss Aycock served as advisor.

Members of the sophomore Hi-Y attended meetings every other Monday night. They undertook service projects for both school and community. Many social functions were held during the year. Mr. Browne was advisor.

G.A.C. MEMBERS DILIGENTLY WORK at their fall carwash. AMBASSADORS TELL PLEDGES Doodle, Nancy, and Judy to "wipe those smiles off their faces."

The Girl Ambassadors Club has once again proved itself an asset to our school and community. Another fine record of worthwhile services has been compiled, ranging from the making and selling of tassels for football games to soliciting funds for the "March of Dimes." The year began with the staging of the annual New Girls' Tea to acquaint students with the organization of the Ambassadors, and was followed closely by the club's first money-making project, a carwash.

During the Yuletide season, the Ambassadors combined service and pleasure with the donation of a Christmas tree decorated with candy canes to the Alexander Home, and a Christmas-Carol-Spend-the-Night party for club members, held at Becky Cannaday's house.

School projects have included: the decoration of the student lounge for "Beat Harding Week," the presentation of a buffet Thanksgiving dinner for the teachers and school staff with accompanying entertainment by Carole Slaughter, Darst Murphy, Donna Woodside, Betsy Glenn, Margaret Whitton, Cynthia Baker, and Judy Mathews, and the selling of ads to aid the Mustang.

The club has prospered under the guidance of a devoted slate of officers, and advisors, Miss Patsy Sifford and Miss Jean Carmichael. The presentation of a banquet honoring seniors and new pledges culminated a successful year for the Ambassadors.

OFFICERS RESPONSIBLE FOR CO-ORDINATING orchestra activities are Dickie Lee, Vice President; Becky Jennings, President; Alice Wheeler, Concert Mistress; and Mr. Mims, Director.

Seventy-five students combined their musical talent to form our orchestra, which gave three concerts for the enjoyment of our student body. At the Christmas assembly, which has become a tradition at Myers Park, the orchestra accompanied the choir in Handel's Messiah. Also on the agenda of this year's activities were concerts for various organizations in Charlotte, a performance for the PTA and several out-of-town trips.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Spencer Mims, who is in his first year as director of the instrumental music department, the orchestra continued to represent Myers Park in the highest standards. In the state music contest, the orchestra again received a high rating for its musical ability. Steve Abrams, Kaye Blickensderfer, David Pfohl, Mary Stewart Rosenblatt, Ronnie Sikor, David Swyers, Jimmy Weber, and Alice Wheeler were Myers Park's outstanding representatives to the All-State Orchestra in November at Greensboro.

Curtis Hardy, President; Ben Gravely, Vice President; Mr. Mims, Director, are the band officers for this year.

Under the able direction of Mr. Spencer Mims, our band has made many successful appearances this year. In addition to the sparkling half-time shows presented throughout football season, the group performed in the Armistice Day and Carrousel parades.

In the field of civic service, the musicians entertained at a hockey game and the nationally televised University of North Carolina-Notre Dame basketball game.

Outstanding members Curtis Hardy, Mary Mead Owens, Ben Gravely, Ernest Holdredge, Pat Vaughn, Jack Stallings, Deems Wilson, and David Swyers were selected to participate in the All-State Band in Gastonia.

The band proved itself a promising organization in a concert held in February prior to the District Band Contest at Hickory in March, in which the group made a very creditable performance.

Vocal music continued to be one of the highlights of the music department this year. Headed by Mr. Carl Cronstedt, now in his seventh year at Myers Park, the four choral groups consisted of the A-Capella Choir, the Girls' Ensemble, the Boys' Octet, and the Chorus.

These four groups made numerous public appearances, ranging from their traditional presentation of Handel's Messiah during Christmas to concerts at local churches and before civic groups. One of the most enjoyable experiences the choir had was "singing for their supper" at the S & W just before the holidays. The Boys' Octet performed for the

According to custom, the choir participated in the State Music Contest and provided the music for Baccalaureate and graduation.

Myers Park can be justly proud of the growth of the vocal music program at our school. Eight years ago, the first concert was presented from the library balcony by sixteen members of the mixed chorus. From such a small beginning the group has expanded to a very large group and has become widely known for the quality of their performances.

DRAMA OFFICERS check scripts. Jean Fullerton, President; Miss McInnes, Advisor; Bill Byrd, Vice President; Craig Mason, Treasurer.

CAST of "Time Out For Ginger" take positions for curtain call.

The Limelighters' chief purpose is to promote interest in and to increase enjoyment of dramatics. The first dramatic production of the year, "Time Out for Ginger," was held November 21-22 at Myers Park Elementary School and was well received. During the Christmas holidays everyone who had worked on the play and other club members enjoyed themselves at an informal Yuletide party.

In February the dramatists presented four one-act plays, "Three On a Bench," "Concert in the Park," "Escape by Moonlight," and "Indian Summer," to the student body. Toward the latter part of the year, these plays were presented again at the Drama Festival in Chapel Hill.

To remain a member of the Limelighters each person earned a minimum of fifteen points per semester, receiving one point for each hour's work.

Because of the diligent efforts of their new advisor, Miss McInnes, and President Jean Fullerton, the drama department of Myers Park is one of which we can be proud.

Honor Society has year of innovations

This year brought many changes for the Myers Park Chapter of the National Honor Society. Under the leadership of its officers and advisors, Miss Moore and Miss Sprinkle, they formed a new scrapbook committee, purchased as a gift to the school, new regalia for induction ceremonies, and placed an Honor Society plaque in the Student Center.

In late January, a debating club was formed by the Honor Society. However, membership was open to all students of Myers Park. Members Anne Stratton, Becky Cannady, Louise Habicht, and Margaret Taylor attended the Debate Workshop at Wake Forest last July to learn techniques of debating in anticipation of a debating club.

All of the year was not change, however. The traditional tapping remained the same. Once again members acted as guides for college representatives on College Day. Louise Habicht, Curtis Hardy, Anne Lobdell, and Larry Spicer were finalists for the National Honor Society Scholarship.

Membership in the Junior High Honor Society is based on the same qualifications as the Senior High: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. The first five percent was taken in last spring. This February, twenty-six more members were taken into the junior high group.

On the night of May 21, at the Senior class banquet, the 1959 Mustang was dedicated and distributed to the Seniors. The following day the underclassmen received their copies and shrieks of "Did you see my picture?" echoed throughout the school.

Especially proud of their finished product was the annual staff. Of course, each member knew that without the constant prodding of Sally Spratt, Editor, and Miss Freeman and Mr. Browne, Advisors, the Mustang would not have been possible. Business Manager Gene Carpenter and Advertising Manager Jeannie Glasgow were responsible for the money and the ads which are needed to produce an annual. Promotion by Spike Spigener resulted in eighty percent of the students purchasing a Mustang, setting an all-time high in subscription sales.

Miss America consented to judge the beauties in the Features section edited by Janice Short. Harriet Hester, Activities Editor, attended more club meetings than any other student to get the pictures and copy for her section. Sports, too, were covered by the annual staff under the editorships of Tommy O'Brien and Judy Mathews. Class Editor, Louise Habicht, worked long hours to be sure that each student's picture was included and that his name was correctly spelled. Jimmy Gupton's art helped sell annuals and make our "copy" envelopes understandable to the printer.

For the second consecutive year, the Mustang received a First Place award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in competition with other high school annuals in the nation. In November, the staff sent delegates to the North Carolina Scholastic Press Association convention in Chapel Hill where Dick Ranson, a Myers Park junior, was elected state president succeeding retiring president Spike Spigener, also a Mustang staffer. Our sponsors were elected state annual advisors.

A new printing process, lithography, allowed the staff greater freedom of design and made possible a type of ad never offered before.

A more extensive curriculum coverage played an important part in the design of the '59 work in addition to the usual coverage of school activities.

Co-editors Darst Murphy and Atkins Carson put finishing touches on make-up.

Co-Editors Darst Murphy and Atkins Carson spent many long hours after school and on Saturdays with their staff working on the '58-'59 issues of the Myer-Spark. Their perserverance paid off, for this year's 'Spark has been the best ever.

Subscription sales, which lagged considerably behind expectations during the first few weeks of the drive, were given a considerable boost by the loyal efforts of the Key Club and several other M. P. organizations.

Mr. Richard Sizer, new to both the school and the 'Spark, replaced Mrs. Harriet Taylor as advisor. His "newness" soon wore off, however, and he was of great help to the staff in giving suggestions for improvement and stimulating the practice of good journalism among the staff members.

This year's news, features, and sports staffs combined efforts to produce large quantities of copy, which were rewritten, edited, and proofread before appearing on the pages of the publication. Joe Caldwell, staff photographer for the second year, once again provided the clear, well composed pictures which are so vital in the appearance of a paper.

Spark is the voice of the students

A familiar sound around the "Spark" room was the Advertising Manager, Bess Forshaw, spurring the advertising staff on to sell more ads. "Please . . . we need twenty-five more inches by tomorrow!" And Trey Snepp forever saying, "No Bess! We cannot put any more ads on the sports page! Darst . . . Atkins . . . say she can't."

With the copy, ads, and pictures turned in, the job was still not done. Headlines had to be written, make-ups planned. Occasionally room had to be made for an important, late-breaking story. After hours of hard work, the staff's paper could at last "go to press."

It was not all work, though—the litter of empty coke bottles, the mock "insults" scribbled on the large sheet of poster paper on the L.A. 9 door, the Christmas tree on top of the inter-com box, and the late afternoon trades of tangerines and fruitcake with the annual staff, will all be remembered as part of the experience of publishing the school paper.

Special events and

Special events, awards and honors, senior superlatives—these were the highlights of our year.

Exceptional ability, talent, faithfulness and devotion to one's school combine themselves in a few people to set them apart for special recognition. Oftentimes it was difficult to make a choice, because we had so many outstanding candidates. In other instances, the choice was an obvious one because of a person's particularly superior qualities. We shall long remember the secret ballots, the breathtaking suspense as we awaited the results of the final balloting, and finally, the joy we shared with the recipitents.

Homecoming and the Christmas and Valentine Dances are equally important in our thoughts of this year. Will we ever forget the downpour we sat through at Homecoming or the snow we watched and waited for at the Christmas Dance? And at the Valentine Dance only two months later, an early touch of spring made it possible for us to dance on the terrace.

The people and events featured in these pages are perhaps among our most cherished memories of this year.

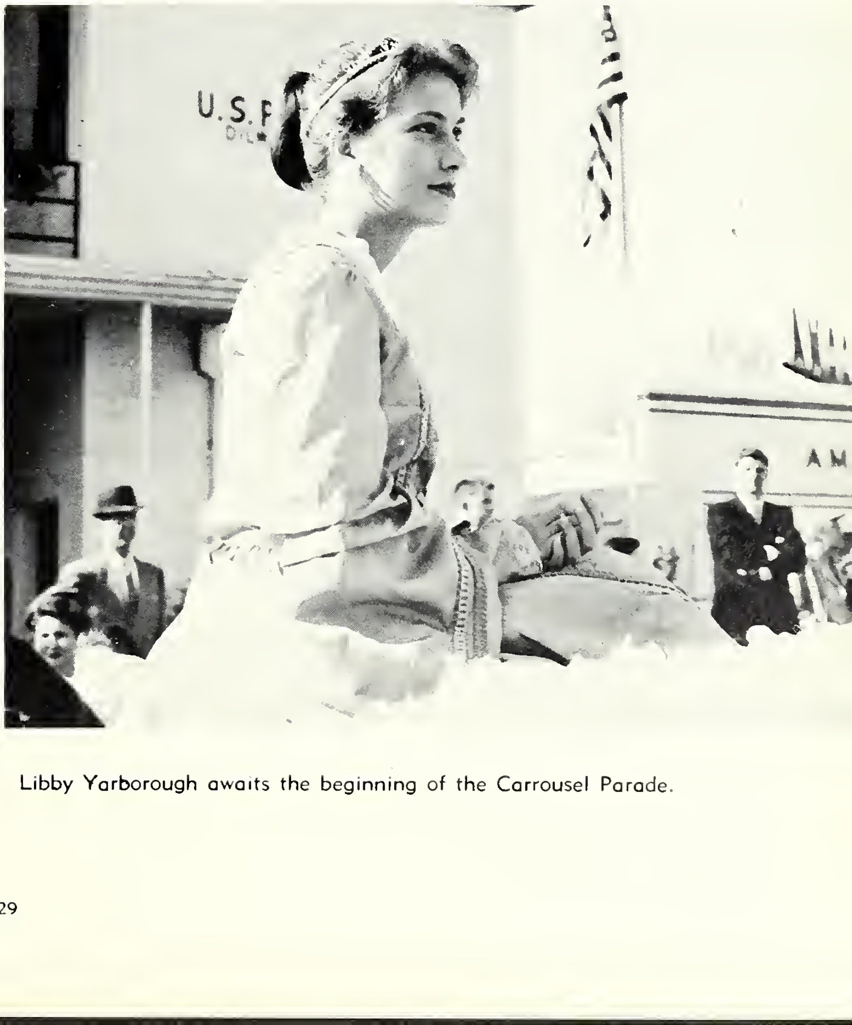
Lyn McGarity reigns over '58 Homecoming Festivities.

Geri McDonald, Mopsy Grayson, Shelia Duncan, and Edith Harrison—1958 Homecoming attendants.

In addition to the class beauties, Myers Park had other lovely girls representing the school at various functions this year. Lyn McGarity, chosen queen by the football team, was escorted by Bob Cordle, who crowned her at the dance following the football game with Greensboro on October 18. Attending Lyn were Edith Harrison and Shelia Duncan, seniors; Mopsy Grayson, junior; and Geri McDonald, sophomore. "Fall and Football" was the Homecoming Dance theme carried out by the football motif and fall-colored streamers decorating the cafeteria.

Libby Yarborough, elected by the senior high, represented Myers Park as Carrousel Princess. Libby attended the Royal Society of the Knights of Carrousel Coronation and Ball and rode on the Queen's float during the Carolinas' Carrousel Parade.



Libby Yarborough awaits the beginning of the Carrousel Parade.

Versatile Bonny Currie received the annual D.A.R. award.

Harriet Hester, Miss Hi-Miss, represents the typical senior girl.

Outstanding seniors are tapped for special recognition

Bonny was chosen by the seniors for the citizenship award sponsored by the D.A.R. as the girl who best represents her class in dependability, service, and leadership. Selected on the basis of her scholarship, leadership, character, and personality, Harriet represented M.P. at a special program held at Winthrop College. Doodle and David won the title of Mr. and Miss Myers Park in a Senior Class election. Reigning as King and Queen of Hearts at the Valentine Dance were Susan and Robert. Their attendants were Edith Harrison and Chan Richards, Mopsy Grayson and Tommy Blanton, Barbara Martin and Doug Caldwell. Junior Rotarians Goody, Walter, David, Spike, Chan, Hal, Bob and Bill (Wallace), elected by the Student Congress, represented M.P. at all Charlotte Rotary Club meetings.

Superior juniors elected as marshals

Serving as a Junior Marshal is one of the highest honors a Myers Park student can achieve. Juniors who have at least a "B" average are nominated by the faculty on the basis of citizenship, leadership, character, service and are voted on by the Junior Class. They lead the senior class procession, usher, and distribute programs at the Baccalaureate sermon and graduation exercises.

I really can't imagine that I've just known you one year. It seems like a lot longer.

I'm really gonna miss you next year when you're gone, but I know that you'll be in the Lord's will, & that's the place where you'll be the happiest!

I sorta envy you for being able to go to ~~[illegible]~~ Colorado! I wish I could go, too!

I hope that in a year or two I can go to Wheaton. Please drop me a line once in a while, & I'll do the same! Just stay the way you are, & be yielded to Him so that He can use you. Let Him have the preeminence in your life!

Spring activities write the end to another busy year

Popular Carole Slaughter and Victor K. Burg reign as Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner at Spring Fling.

With the spring months came an increase of excitement and anticipation. Final Honor Society induction recognized juniors and seniors. The Spring Fling climaxed School Spirit Week and an enthusiastic battle for the titles of Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner. We enjoyed Till There Was You, the best senior follies ever presented. Slaves became a familiar sight during Latin Week. Hard-working GRA members received awards at an all-girl assembly; drama enthusiasts showed ability in Dial M for Murder. The Junior-Senior, Out of this World, ended months of secrets. Many clubs held banquets to climax the busy year. Elections were now the foremost question on everyone's mind; campaign posters covered the campus as enthusiasm built up. May was fast slipping away; the days until graduation had become numbered, with so much still left for seniors to do.

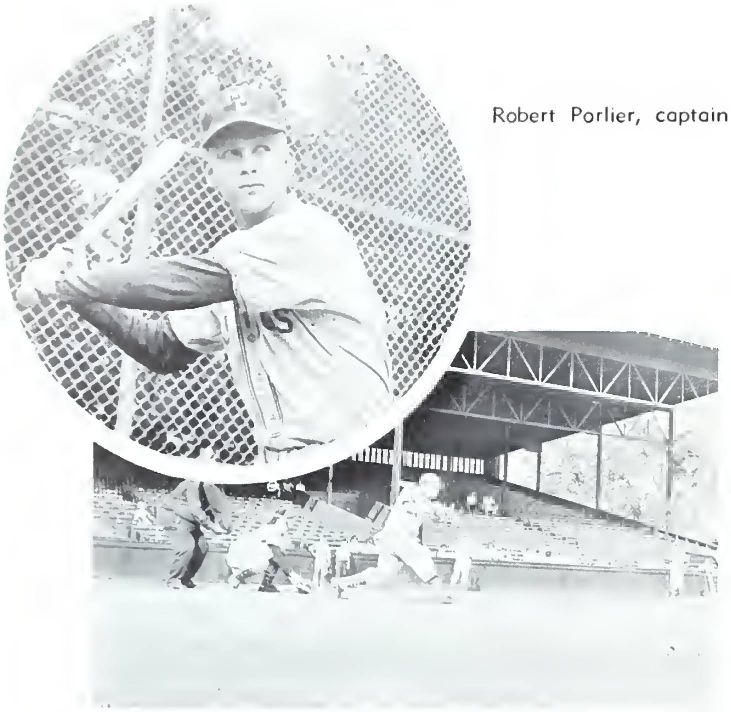
Baseball headlines Myers Park's spring sports schedule



Robert Parlier, captain

Chan Richards, named to the All-State team, in action against Rock Hill.

Suffering graduation losses from the runner-up state championship team of '58, the Mustangs, coached by Jack Sink, had an even season with a 3-3 win-loss record in city and a 5-5 record in conference play.

On All City-County First String team, Myers Park placed Chan Richards and Robert Parlier; on second string, Bob Cordle, Hal Beaver, and Perry Turnipseed. Richards, a three-year veteran who batted .351 for this year's highest average, was selected to the All-State Baseball team at first base. He was voted the Most Valuable player; and Goody Thomas, catcher, the Most Improved player.

Hitting an average of .270 this season were Bob Cordle, second base; Robert Parlier, left field; and George Chapman, right field. Pitchers Hal Beaver and Tommy Austin had a 5-5 and a 3-3 win-loss record. Future Mustang teams will have a strong backbone with veterans Tommy Blanton, John de Krafft, Rick Hulse, George Chapman, Perry Turnipseed, Jim Moore, and Al Barnett.

Track's Eddie West sets record-breaking mile time 4:25.0

Coach Stuart Allen's track charges continued to dominate Carolina track circles, copping the state championship for the third time in four years. The highlight of the state meet, held in Raleigh, was Eddie West's record-breaking mile time of 4:25.0, breaking by three seconds the old mark set last year by Mustang graduate David Gilmour. Other first places were grabbed by Tom Stockton in the 880, by Bill Houston in the 100- and 220-yard dashes, and by the mile relay team.

Houston, captain and high point man, who won the Stenhouse Trophy, was elected the most valuable player and was named by Coach Allen as the best track man in the history of Myers Park.

Although weak in the field events, the Mustangs received pleasant surprises from the state meet performances of Bob Cordle in the broad jump, Richard Barefoot in the high jump, and Dickie Lee in the high hurdles.

The Mustangs swept all relays and edged a strong Durham High team to win the biggest meet of the year, the Duke-Durham Relay, for the second consecutive year. Bill Houston, Bob Cordle, Rich Harris, and Bob Allen ran in three of the winning relays.

This outstanding record speaks for itself and establishes Myers Park as the track power of the state.

Mustang senior, junior golfers compete in state tournament

Myers Park's senior division golfers are Dan Brawley, Alan Shaw, Dave Farr, Tom Hartley, Barry Farr, Xan Law.

Junior division golfers are Eddy MacAleer, Charlie Chase, Jule Griffith.

Wins over Wake Forest Freshmen, Davidson's Junior Varsity and Reynolds High's squad and participation in the State Golf Tournament in Chapel Hill were highlights of a busy schedule for the Mustang golfers. Asheville, Gastonia and Myers Park rotated triangular matches on home courses in which the Mustangs placed second. Dave Farr, captain and Most Valuable player, and Dan Brawley sparked the Mustang wins. Sophomore Alan Shaw proved to be one of the best additions to the varsity squad.

Dave Farr and Dan Brawley tee off in practice session at M. P. club.

'59 tennis team ends successful season with 9-1 record

Myers Park's tennis team finished the '59 season with a high standing among the high school teams in the state. The netters won nine out of the ten matches this season, losing only to the UNC freshman team. Central, Asheville, and Winston-Salem were three of the teams which were beaten in both of two engagements. One of the closest matches was against the Davidson frosh, in which the Mustangs won by one game. The Mustangs also defeated Rock Hill and the Wake Forest freshmen. In state competition a very promising junior, Steve Watson, finished second in the singles action; and Bill Mosely and Charlie Connelly finished second in the doubles competition. Outstanding seniors were Curtis Hardy, Fred Austin, Paul Goodson, Bill Mosely, Lloyd Bost. A probable state championship of the future could easily be formed around underclassmen Steve Watson, Charlie Connelly, Russell Jones, and Ronnie Smarr.

Steve Watson was the top underclassman on the '59 team.

David Underwood, '58 football captain, accepts special team award from Tommy Blanton, '59 captain.

Annual awards recognize and honor student achievement

Barbara Burr wins DE award presented by Mr. Tom Braaten of J. B. Ivey.

Best Actress Award goes to Sandy Poliakoff from Limelighter president Jean Fullerton.

Exchange student Susan Brennels is presented national Red Cross pin by Sally Spratt, chapter president.

Curtis Hardy accepts physics award from Mr. McCloskey.

Athletes were honored in an assembly May 19. Named Most Valuable players were Hal Beaver, football; Wade Blackwelder, basketball; Bill McGinty, swimming; Chan Richards, baseball; Dave Farr, golf; Bill Houston, track.

Honors and awards were recognized May 21 at the traditional assembly. Among those recognized for outstanding honors were Louise Habicht, valedictorian; Hughes Hoyle, State Math Contest winner, which carries a scholarship to UNC; and Susan Stephenson, a district winner in the Science Fair. Bob Cordle led the scholarship winners with ones to Duke, Washington and Lee, Southwestern, and Davidson. Outstanding scholarships went to Alice Wheeler, University of Miami; Ronald Sikor, Columbia University; Steve Abrams, N.R.O.T.C.; Bill Wallace, Proctor and Gamble Athletic; Bill Halberstadt, Jefferson Standard Broadcasting; Walter Dellinger, General Motors. Farewell speeches were given by outgoing Student Congress officers. Next year's officers were recognized, as well as delegates to conventions and M.P.'s foreign exchange students.

A new slant on Awards Day—Dr. Jack Horner wins recognition for his contribution to DE program from Barbara Burr.

Class Lawyer Walter Dellinger reads Last Will and Testament at Senior Banquet.

Miss Frances Gunter and Dr. Jack Horner receive one of the senior gifts to the school.

Traditional ceremonies end seniors' high school days

Into the final weeks of May were crowded the most thrilling and memorable events of our high school career. May 21 will long be remembered as a day of days—Honors and Awards, a free afternoon, the banquet with our class day officers, farewell speeches, gift to the school, the annual dedication to Miss Freeman and Mr. Browne, and the distribution of the long-awaited green and white '59 Mustang. The next week we struggled through exams. Then it was time for Baccalaureate at 5:00, May 31. With an odd mixture of gaiety and sadness, we lined up in front of First Methodist, then filed in solemnly as the processional sounded. The Reverend James E. Fogartie challenged us, "Which will you choose—things or life?" Leaving the church, we knew that no longer was graduation a dream; it was a reality.

At 5:00 on Baccalaureate Sunday seniors begin first steps toward graduation.

A solemn exit, a new sense of dignity

Class advisor Miss Evangeline Stewart and Dr. Jack Horner keep graduation exercises running smoothly.

Green tassels and a smattering of gold typify graduation as homeroom after homeroom crosses the stage at Ovens.

345 seniors are graduated at Ovens Auditorium June 2

Miss Elizabeth Brice, Harry Golden Jr., and Harry Golden Sr. renew acquaintances at graduation reception.

Seniors convened for the last time at Ovens Auditorium at eight o'clock on June 2. Dr. Elmer H. Garinger, City Superintendent, presided. Noted writer Harry Golden delivered the address, leaving us to ponder, "Each of us is a reflection of the society which surrounds us . . . The most tragic of all afflictions is to be deprived of dignity." Honors went to Bill Wallace, Civitan Award; Sally Spratt and Curtis Hardy, Danforth Award; Ann Potts and Curtis Hardy, the Thomas F. Braaten Scholarship. Dr. Jack Horner awarded the diplomas as we filed across the stage in homeroom groups. All too quickly it was over; high school years had become a memory for the Class of '59.

A familiar trio—Phil Burns, Bill Skidmore, and Wade Blackwelder—seems happy that diplomas are at hand.

Pomp and Circumstance: Miss Jessie Rankin's homeroom prepares to enter auditorium for final exercises.

Mr. Webb Bost of the Civitan Club and Bill Wallace, Civitan Award winner, chat with Mrs. Duke Burg at graduation reception.
